

PRESIDENT: Senator Kelly.

SENATOR KELLY: Mr. President, members of the legislature, Obviously I would oppose bringing this bill back. But I would talk for just a minute not as communist but as support in or of the Russian program of day care centers. You have got to go back to World War II when over 60% of my generation was killed in Russia we were not there. The women had to rebuild that country. The way they did it was to work and in order to work and be sure that their children were educated in the fashion in which they wanted them educated, and fed and taken care of they developed the day care centers. Now where are we in America? Lets go back to Rosey the Rivotor. We who were around then know that she won the war. She and the old U. S. Army Air Corp. Where are we today? 40% of our employed people are women. The women are building American or America today and in order to continue their building they need some type of a day care system so that their children are not abandoned. Now, to the very specifics of 972 it gives these opportunities available to those few women who are on ADC and trying to get out of it and the need to help 972 send it on its way down to Uncle Jim and lets get it signed.

PRESIDENT: Senator Dickinson, are you passing? Not in the chamber, alright. Senator Carpenter is next to speak then Senator Cavanaugh.

SENATOR CARPENTER: Mr. President, I was a little bit disturbed by Senator DeCamp, who in his story apparently meant to compare helpless children with pigs. I hope that everyone in the 40th District understands what the comparison means. How little of a concept of the desire in order to be of assistance to others that he does not have. Let me bring you the other side of Senator DeCamp. Lets look at 851. Instead of talking about pigs you are talking about hogs. What does that bill do and its his bill.

SENATOR DE CAMP: A point of order Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: State your point Senator.

SENATOR DE CAMP: (mike not activate) 972 Senator Carpenter plans to move into tirade on a completely related bill and use that as his excuse for getting into who knows what. I object to discussing another bill.

PRESIDENT: Thank you. Senator Carpenter try to confine your remarks to the action of 972.

SENATOR CARPENTER: He is the one that brought the pigs up, no not me.

PRESIDENT: Try to confine your remarks.

SENATOR CARPENTER: No one can talk any better on them than he can.

PRESIDENT: Thank you sir. Senator DeCamp, what is your point.

SENATOR DE CAMP: Point a personal privilege at this point. Senator Carpenter is suggesting that I made suggestions that I didn't. The comparison to pigs was of Senators who accept free corn, not children who are taken advantage of by Senators.
